Forward-Looking Statements. Our presentation today, including the slides contained herein, contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements are not historical facts or guarantees of future performance and are based on management’s assumptions and expectations, which are inherently subject to difficult to predict uncertainties, risks and changes in circumstances. The use of words such as “intends,” “expects,” “may,” “believes,” “should,” “seeks,” “intends,” “plans,” “potential,” “will,” “projects,” “estimates,” “anticipates” or similar expressions generally identify forward-looking statements. However, these words are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements, and any statements that refer to expectations, beliefs, plans, predictions, projections, forecasts, objectives, assumptions, models, illustrations, profiles or other characterizations of future events or circumstances are forward-looking statements, including without limitation statements relating to future revenues, expenses, margins, performance, profitability, cash flows, net income/(loss), earnings per share, growth rates and other measures of results of operations (such as adjusted EBITDA) and future growth prospects for TripAdvisor’s business. Actual results and the timing and outcome of events may differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements for a variety of reasons, including, among others, those discussed in the “Risk Factors” section of our Annual Report on Form 10-K. Except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking or other statements in this presentation, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.

Non-GAAP Measures. This presentation also includes discussion of both GAAP and non-GAAP financial measures. Important information regarding TripAdvisor’s definitions and use of these measures, as well as reconciliations of the non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure are included in the earnings release reporting our fourth quarter and full year 2020 financial results and supplemental financial information, which are available on the Investor Relations section of our website: www.tripadvisor.com, and in the “Non-GAAP Reconciliations” section of this document. These non-GAAP measures are intended to supplement, and are not a substitute for comparable GAAP measures. Investors are urged to consider carefully the comparable GAAP measures and reconciliations.

Industry / Market Data. Industry and market data used in this presentation have been obtained from industry publications and sources as well as from research reports prepared for other purposes. We have not independently verified the data obtained from these sources and cannot assure you of the data’s accuracy or completeness.

We made significant progress in 2020 along our One Tripadvisor consumer vision

- Repositioned brand: There’s Good Out There
- Launched Travel Safe to help consumers to make more informed decisions
- Aligning consumer experience for planning considered trips
- Beta-launched Direct-to-Consumer offering, Tripadvisor Plus, and see significant growth potential as we deliver more value to Tripadvisor members
Financial overview
4Q20 Update: Monthly consumer trends demonstrate uneven recovery

Recent monthly unique visitor trends demonstrate recovery from the Q2 lows:

- October, November and December monthly unique users were approximately 68%, 58%, and 59%, of 2019’s comparable periods, respectively
- This compares very favorably to April, which was 33% of last year’s comparable period

Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA is our non-GAAP profit measure and is defined as net income (loss) plus: (1) provision (benefit) for income taxes; (2) other income (expense), net; (3) depreciation and amortization; (4) stock-based compensation and other stock-settled obligations; (5) goodwill, long-lived asset and intangible asset impairments; (6) legal reserves and settlements; (7) restructuring and other related reorganization costs; and (8) other non-recurring expenses and income.
4Q20 Update: $915M of available liquidity; Cost measures have positioned business for a variety of recovery scenarios

- $418 million in cash and cash equivalents at 12/31/20
- Renegotiated credit facility to extend maturity to May 2024, and extended our leverage covenant holiday through maturity for borrowings up to $200 million, and reduced capacity to $500 million
- Generated more than $200 million of discretionary and workforce-related fixed cost savings in 2020 vs 2019(1)
- Majority of savings expected to persist in 2021 and beyond

(1) Estimated savings do not consider depreciation, amortization, restructuring and related reorganization costs, and stock-based compensation
Well-positioned for travel sector rebound

Travelers
Trusted source of information on locations, property conditions, budgeting and other trip factors; barometer for early signs of engagement given position at top of the funnel

Travel Partners
Critical source of demand generation for accommodations and in-market suppliers with excess capacity

Marketing dynamic
Enhanced discipline across performance marketing channels

Business model positioning
Diversification across end-markets, business models and geographies enable Tripadvisor to experience rebound regardless of where it occurs
Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA is our segment profit measure and is defined as net income (loss) plus:

Please see the appendix for reconciliation.
We have successfully driven a diverse revenue mix, with additional opportunities ahead.

Diversification supported by:

- Hotel auction
- Diverse double-digit pre-pandemic growth in emerging offerings:
  - Hotel B2B solutions
  - Display and platform
  - Experiences & Dining
- Additionally, in 2020, we launched our first direct-to-consumer offerings

Note: 2012 and 2015 reflect historical reportable segment reporting from 10-Ks

Appendix
Non-GAAP Reconciliations

The Company believes that non-GAAP financial measures provide investors with useful supplemental information about the financial performance of our business, enables comparison of financial results between periods where certain items may vary independent of business performance, and allow for greater transparency with respect to key metrics used by management in operating and analyzing our business.

2. Depreciation and amortization. Includes internal use software and website development amortization.

3. Adjusted EBITDA. A non-GAAP measure which is defined as net income (loss) plus: (1) provision (benefit) for income taxes; (2) other income (expense), net; (3) depreciation and amortization; (4) stock-based compensation and other stock-settled obligations; (5) goodwill, long-lived assets and intangible asset impairments; (6) legal reserves and settlements; (7) restructuring and other related reorganization costs; and (8) non-recurring expenses and income. These items are excluded from our Adjusted EBITDA measure because these items are non cash in nature, or because the amount is not driven by core operating results and renders comparisons with prior periods less meaningful.

4. Free Cash Flow. A non-GAAP measure which is defined as net cash provided by operating activities less capital expenditures, which are purchases of property and equipment, including capitalization of internal-use software development costs. We believe this financial measure can provide useful supplemental information to help investors better understand underlying trends in our business, as it represents the operating cash flow that our operating businesses generate, less capital expenditures but before taking into account other cash movements that are not directly tied to the core operations of our businesses, such as financing activities, foreign exchange or certain investing activities. Free Cash Flow has certain limitations in that it does not represent the total increase or decrease in the cash balance for the period, nor does it represent the residual cash flow for discretionary expenditures. Therefore, it is important to evaluate Free Cash Flow along with the unaudited condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.
